FREDERIKSBERG IN FACTS & FIGURES

SMALL & INDEPENDENT

Frederiksberg is effectively a municipal island within the country's capital – a unique phenomenon in present-day Europe.

Frederiksberg er dybest set sin egen lille kommunale ø midt i landets hovedstad – et yderst sjældent fænomen i dagens Europa.

NAMING FREDERIKSBERG

In 1699–1703, King Frederik IV built a palace on top of a hill. He named the palace Frederiks Berg, and the rebuilt town at the foot of the hill consequently changed its name to Frederiksberg.

Fra 1699 til 1703, byggede Frederik den Fjerde et slot på toppen af bakken. Han døbte slottet Frederiksberg og landsbyen for foden af bakken ændrede med tiden navn til Frederiksberg.

MUST-SEE-A-TREE POLICY

1/6 of Frederiksberg is green recreational areas including 4 large public parks, covering 1.45 km² in total. Frederiksberg has a "must-see-a-tree" policy stating that all residents should be able to see at least 1 tree from their house/apartment.

1/6 af Frederiksberg er grønne, rekreative områder, hvoraf 1,45 km² dækkes af 4 store offentlige parker. Frederiksberg har en "se-mindst-ét-træ fra din bolig" politik.

MIDSUMMER BONFIRE

Approx. 22,000 people attend the Midsummer's Eve celebration in Frederiksberg Gardens every year on the 23rd June. Hvert år strømmer ca. 22.000 mennesker til Frederiksberg Have for at opleve Sankt Hans bålet den 23. juni.

FROM A LOCAL PERSPECTIVE

Frederiksberg is a neighbourhood bursting with stylish streets and quirky places. Ask most locals, and they'll eagerly share their favourite places to shop, enjoy a good cup of coffee, suggest an underrated museum to explore, what restaurants to try out, which plays to attend and which of the many parks is their ultimate break spot.

We asked three creative entrepreneurs and local business owners to share a selection of their preferred picks.

Frederiksberg er et pulserende kvarter fyldt med lækre shoppingstrøg og små "skæve" steder. Spørg enhver lokal og de vil hjertens gerne fortælle dig om deres favoritbutikker, yndlings kaffesteder og hvilke muséer, restauranter og barer du bør besøge. Og ikke mindst hvilke parker, der giver dem den bedste fred i sjælen.

Vi bad tre kreative iværksættere dele en lille håndfuld af deres favoritter.

Frederiksberg is one of a kind, due to the city's identity and history as a city within the capital, with many different residential neighbourhoods. It's a proper city, not just a backdrop of the capital. It reminds me of going to NYC only to rush to Brooklyn to enjoy the city's authenticity, instead of the hustle and bustle of Manhattan. Furthermore, as someone who loves nature you can't help but mention the gardens of Frederiksberg. The Horticultural Society, Frederiksberg Gardens and Søndermarken. The lungs of the city, and for me spending my days here, they're absolutely indispensable!

"Frederiksberg is one of a kind due to the city's identity and history"

Frederiksberg er særlig på grund af byens identitet og historie, som en by i hovedstaden med mange forskellige beboelseskvarterer. Det er en rigtig by og ikke en hovedstads-kulisse. Det minder mig om at besøge NYC, for dernæst at skynde sig til Brooklyn for at nyde byens autenticitet, i stedet for Manhattans virvar. For en der er vild med natur, som jeg er, kan man heller ikke undgå at nævne haveanlæggene på Frederiksberg. Haveselskabet, Frederiksberg Have og Søndermarken er storbyens lunger og, for mig der færdes der dagligt, helt uundværlige!

TOWN HALL/RÅDHUS

I love the town hall for its architecture. Both on the outside and within. Especially some of the council rooms are beautifully ornamented. Jeg elsker rådhuset for dets arkitektur. Både udefra og indefra. Især nogle af byrådslokalerne er virkelig smukt dekoreret.

Frederiksberg is a lovely mix of calm and busy. There are areas that inspire contemplation, relaxation and calmness. right in the middle of the city, while other areas are buzzing with life and activity. You'll find plenty of green spaces: the hill with Frederiksberg Palace, the Copenhagen ZOO and a gorgeous view, and places like Værnedamsvej and Gammel Kongevej that are filled with shoppers and others enjoying life in the city.

Frederiksberg er et dejligt miks af ro og aktivitet. Der er områder, der taler til fordybelse, afslapning og stilhed midt i byen, mens andre områder summer af liv og glade dage. Frederiksberg is filled with sensations of something grand, which you feel on Frederiksberg Allé and in the large residential neighbourhoods, mixed with the tiny and intimate streets with sloping floorboards and stucco work. Back in the day I was thrilled to get my own shop at Gammel Kongevej 82 in a room with so much soul and personality. In my opinion, Frederiksberg is one of the most wonderful places to stroll around in – and remember to look up! There's a large local community. Værnedamsvej and Tullinsgade are places I often come by and frequently recommend to others.

"... one of the most wonderful places to stroll around in – Remember to look up!"

Frederiksberg er fyldt med storhedsfølelser, som både Frederiksberg Allé og de store villakvarterer kan give, blandet med de helt små og tætte gader med skrå gulvbrædder og stuk. Jeg var selv utrolig lykkelig over at få mit eget butikslokale på Gammel Kongevej 82 i sin tid. Et lokale der rummer så meget sjæl og personlighed. I min optik er Frederiksberg et af de skønneste steder at slentre rundt - Husk at kigge op! Der er et stort lokalt miljø, og Værnedamsvej og Tullinsgade er steder, jeg selv tit besøger, og som jeg til hver en tid anbefaler.

THE "ROYAL" ROWBOAT TOUR

200 years ago, King Frederik VI sailed around the canals in Frederiksberg Gardens. Today, you can enjoy a romantic boat trip on these canals. The trip takes you under the garden's beautiful bridges, past Frederiksberg Castle and allows you to experience the garden from a whole new angle. Surrounded by ducks and herons, you can sit back and enjoy the peaceful atmosphere.

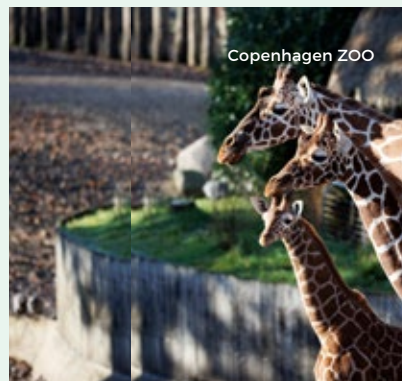

For 200 år siden sejlede Frederik den Sjette rundt på kanalerne i Frederiksberg Have. I dag kan man lade sig ro rundt på de samme kanaler. Turen går under alle broerne i haven, og man kan se slottet og meget andet fra en helt ny vinkel. Oplev de mange ænder og fiskehejrer på denne fantastiske tur.
